To Whom It May Concern:

In June 1996 timberline Construction provided construction and engineering services for the installation of 2 each 20,000 gallon sugar silos.

Prior to any bids being provided or recommendations being offered, they took the time to investigate all options or code limitations for the project. Upon submitting the bid and scope of work for the project Southwest Cannery awarded the contract for the Silo project based on the fact that Timberline Construction had thoroughly investigated all areas.

Timberline Construction continued to demonstrate their commitment to quality workmanship and completion of work upon started dates during each phase of the project. I would like to also add that they followed up on each phase with a thorough inspections of work performed and conditions of the work area as it related to the employees for cleanliness.

I would highly recommend this firm to any organization that is needing a professional quality cost conscience firm for construction.
